Workforce development: Great careers start here

Clackamas Community College's Workforce Development Services is dedicated to helping our community thrive by providing education, training and support to job seekers and local businesses.

With more than 20 years of experience, Workforce Development Services serves as the primary training provider for adult and dislocated workers in Clackamas County, helping people gain the skills needed for high-demand careers and assisting businesses in building a stronger workforce.

Our team connects unemployed and underemployed workers to high-demand industries like health care, manufacturing, transportation, clean energy and information technology. With services like career coaching, individualized employment plans and job placement assistance, we aim to support each individual's unique career path and help them secure employment with a livable wage.

Workforce Development Services offers a wide range of services to help individuals find meaningful employment, including:

- Career planning and coaching: We work one-on-one with job seekers to explore their interests, assess their skills and develop career plans.
- Individualized employment plans: Our advisors create personalized plans that outline each step of the training and employment journey.
- Enrollment and registration assistance: We guide participants through the often complex processes of enrolling in training programs

I can't believe how lucky I was to hear about Workforce! I am so thankful that I was able to earn my certification and find employment. I love the new job, and I feel much more secure financially, with a real career path ahead of me. Thank you!

-Jeremy W.

and navigating college services.

- Job placement and networking: We connect participants with employers and help them build a professional network.
- Support services: We offer financial assistance for child care, transportation, housing and other necessities, removing barriers to completing training programs.

On a mission to support our student veterans

At CCC, we're proud to serve those who served. Our mission is to offer top-notch services to our student veterans and their families.

Our award-winning Veterans Education and Training (VET) Center offers the tools and the connection student veterans need to help them successfully transition from military service to college life. Whether it's accessing veterans' benefits, connecting with peers or a quiet place to study, the VET Center can help. The VET Center offers:

■ Comprehensive support: Veterans receive academic guidance, career counseling and financial aid services tailored specifically to their needs. This includes navigating the GI Bill, scholarships, emergency funds and more.

■ Community building: The VET Center is a hub for veterans to connect with peers, and there are plenty of ways to get involved. The center hosts veteran-specific events and workshops, and there is even a Veterans Club.

■ Dedicated staff: A team of staff members, many of whom are veterans themselves, provide personalized, one-on-one support to help with academic and personal challenges. Our team advocates for veterans and their families.

■ Access to resources: In addition to academic support, the VET Center connects veterans with housing, health care and local veterans' organizations for broader support.

■ Quiet study space: The center offers a quiet place for veterans to study or relax between classes.

The combination of support, community and resources makes the CCC VET Center unique for student veterans.

Learn more about the CCC VET Center and the veterans' services we offer by scanning the QR code or visiting www.clackamas.edu/vet-center.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Each year, Clackamas Community College has the honor of serving thousands of students, supporting them in their educational journeys and helping them realize their goals. This is a privilege we do not take lightly, and we remain committed to providing a welcoming and supportive environment for all.

Our students — whether recent high school graduates (or even current high school students!), working parents or career changers — are pursuing their dreams and inspiring those around them. Their dedication and perseverance are a testament to the power of education and its ability to transform lives.

As we look forward to winter term, I want to thank you — our community — for your continued support and partnership. Whether you're attending classes, supporting our programs or simply cheering from the sidelines, your investment in Clackamas Community College is an investment in the future of our region.

We are grateful to be a part of this vibrant community, and we look forward to building a bright future together. Go, Cougars!

Dr. Tim Cook
CCC President
